

Community Forum

The Turnitin Educator Network (TEN) forum connects educators with a shared commitment to academic integrity. Members support one another by sharing learnings to grow as a global network of leaders in education.

Dos

- ✓ Maintain integrity.
- ✓ Use the forum to explore relevant topics.
- ✓ Share challenges.
- ✓ Engage in healthy debates and conversations.
- ✓ Stay focused on our shared mission.

Don'ts

- ✗ Avoid posting unoriginal ideas, content, or work as your own. Please cite your source(s).
- ✗ Try not to take conversations off topic. Search for current conversations to join and start a new thread if necessary.
- ✗ It's not okay to spread negativity. Instead, state your challenge and ask for help. There is a good chance that you'll find another member that can support you.
- ✗ Avoid rude, hateful, and insulting language, and do not engage in personal attacks. We maintain a zero-tolerance policy for such behavior.
- ✗ It's not okay to promote or share your own products, events, links or articles without first partnering with Turnitin Educator Network moderators. Contact avigil@turnitin.com with specific questions.

Posts that violate these guidelines will be removed and repeat violators will be ejected and barred from participation.

For more information, please see Turnitin's Terms of Services Agreement.